Company Common Stock Fund

Investment Strategy
The Fund invests primarily in Lockheed Martin common stock ("LMT"). A portion of the Fund's assets is held in cash equivalents to allow for daily processing of participant directed activity. Since the Fund invests in cash equivalents, its performance may vary from LMT. There is no guarantee that the Fund's investment objective will be met.

Dividends on LMT attributable to participants' investment in the Fund are automatically reinvested to purchase additional units of the Fund unless an election is made to have dividends paid in cash, in which case they will be distributed semi-annually, in mid-June and late December.

Company Profile
Lockheed Martin designs and manufactures aerospace and defense systems and sells them to U.S. and foreign government agencies. In 2017, U.S. government contracts accounted for 70% of the company's revenue. Lockheed makes tactical fighters, cargo, and special-mission aircraft. It also produces spacecraft, missiles, rockets, and other products.

Volatility Analysis
In the past, this investment has shown a wide range of price fluctuations relative to other investments. This investment may experience significant price increases in favorable markets or undergo large price declines in adverse markets. Some of this risk may be offset by owning other investments that follow different investment strategies.
